

Joe Butler

*Paralegal
Alden Legal London, UK*

Executive Summary

Joe is a Paralegal at Alden Legal assisting in space, telecommunications and spectrum regulatory research and supporting Alden's lawyers in advising clients on commercial and regulatory issues in these industries. He is also currently studying the Legal Practice Course at BPP University in London.

Joe is also a Project Manager at the Satellite Finance Network (www.satellitefinancenetwork.org).

Relevant Work Experience

- Assisted in advising an international telecommunications satellite operator on the status of spectrum disputes in national and European courts.
- Assisted in advising an Earth observation satellite operator on remote sensing regulations and policies across 23 jurisdictions.
- Assisted in advising a large Earth observation satellite operator on contractual issues relating to Intellectual Property.
- Assisted in advising a satellite operator on complex financing arrangements relating to satellite procurement.
- Assisted in advising a creditor on the taking of security over a satellite.
- Assisted in advising a large constellation operator on matters related to connectivity and regulatory engagement.
- Assisted in advising a large satellite operator on national spectrum litigation in EU Member States, which progressed to the European General Court.
- Assisted in advising on various launch licensing issues in relation to a UK spaceport.
- Assisted in advising a satellite operator on licencing issues and drafting a licence application.

Professional career

- 2019 – Paralegal, Alden Legal
- 2017 Placement, CVC Credit Partners
- 2016 Placement, CVC Credit Partners

Education and qualifications

- Currently studying the Legal Practice Course at BPP University, London
- Graduate Diploma in Law, BPP University, London
- BA (Hons) in History, Exeter College, University of Oxford

Other professional activities

- Project Manager at the Satellite Finance Network (SFN)